

Tax Deductions for Law Enforcement And Protective Services Employment

Key Deductions

PROFESSIONAL FEES & DUES: Dues paid to professional societies related to your occupation are deductible. However, the cost of initial admission fees paid for membership in certain organizations or social clubs are considered capital expenses.

Deductions are allowed for payments made to a union as a condition of initial or continued membership. Such payments include dues, but not those, which go toward defraying expenses of a personal nature. However, the part of union dues, which goes into a strike fund, is deductible.

UNIFORMS & UPKEEP EXPENSES: Generally, the costs of your firefighter uniforms are fully deductible. IRS rules specify that work clothing cost and the cost of maintenance are deductible if: (1) the uniforms are required by your employer (if you're an employee); and (2) the clothes are adaptable to ordinary street wear. Normally, the employer's emblem attached to the clothing indicates it is not for street wear. The cost of protective clothing (e.g., safety shoes or goggles) is also deductible.

AUTO TRAVEL: Your auto expense is based on the number of qualified business miles you drive. Expenses for travel between business locations or daily transportation expenses in going between your residence and temporary work locations are deductible; include them as business miles. Your trips between home and work each day or between home and one or more regular places of work are COMMUTING and are NOT deductible.

Document business miles in a record book as follows: (1) Give the date and business purpose of each trip; (2) Note the place to which you traveled; (3) Record the number of business miles; (4) Record your car's odometer reading at both the beginning and end of the tax year. Keep receipts for all car operating expenses ñ gas, oil, repairs, insurance, etc., and of any reimbursement you received for your expenses.

TRAVEL OUT-OF-TOWN: Expenses of traveling away from ñhomeñ overnight on job-related and continuing education trips are deductible. Your ñhomeñ is generally considered to be the entire city or general area where your principal place of employment is located. Out-of-town expenses include transportation, meals, lodging, tips, and miscellaneous items like laundry, valet, etc.

Document away-from-home expenses by noting the date, destination, and business purpose of your trip. Record business miles if you drove to the out-of-town location. In addition, keep a detailed record of your expenses ñ lodging, public transportation, meals, etc. Always list meals and lodging separately in your records. Receipts must be retained for each lodging expense. However, if any other business expense is less than $75, a receipt is not necessary if you record all of the information in a timely diary. You must keep track of the full amount of meal and entertainment expenses even though only a portion of the amount may be deductible.

EQUIPMENT & REPAIRS: Generally, to be deductible, items must be ordinary and necessary to your job as a law enforcer and not reimbursable by your employer. Record separately from other supplies, the costs of business assets, which are expected to last longer than one year and cost more than $100. Normally, the costs of such assets are recovered differently on your tax return than are other recurring, everyday business expenses like flashlights, batteries and other supplies.

TELEPHONE EXPENSES: The basic local telephone service costs of the first telephone line provided in your residence are not deductible. However, toll calls from that line are deductible if the calls are business-related. The costs (basic fee and toll calls) of a second line in your home are also deductible, if used exclusively for business.

CONTINUING EDUCATION: Educational expenses are deductible under either of two conditions: (1) Your employer requires the education in order for you to keep your job or rate of pay; or (2) The education maintains or improves skills as a law enforcer. Costs of courses that are taken to meet the minimum requirements of a job, or that qualify you for a new trade or business, are NOT deductible.

MISCELLANEOUS EXPENSES: Most meals consumed during hours of duty by law enforcers are nondeductible. However, one court ruled (Christey 1981, DCMN 48 AFTR 2d-5796) that unreimbursed meal expenses of state troopers, required to eat their meals at roadside restaurants under very specific conditions, are deductible. CAUTION: The IRS has indicated they won't allow the court's ruling except under circumstances, which closely follow the facts of that case.

Expenses of looking for new employment in your present line of work are deductible ñ you do not have to actually obtain a new job in order to deduct the expenses. Out-of-town job seeking expenses are deductible only if the primary purpose of the trip is job seeking, not pursuing personal activities.
